CHINA AND JAPAN.

LONDON, Feb. 12.
Telegrams from Peking denote much feeling there concerning alleged action by Japan, firstly, that China is being represented by Japan at the Paris Conference or that Japan is endeavouring to secure control of the Chinese delegates; secondly, that Japan has been instrumental in restricting the number of Chinese delegates. These statements are emphatically repudiated by the Japanese, and it is pointed out that China is represented at Paris by Mr. Lu, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Wang, a high official at Peking, Mr. Koo, the Minister from Washington, and Mr. Sze, the Minister from Britain. It was the Conference itself which decided the number of delegates from each State who would be admissible at the different meetings of the Conference. According to the Japanese authorities, Japan's policy, while including the return of Tsingtau to China, is to conclude the closest possible relations with China, bearing in mind the policy of the open door, and to help China to develop her own resources.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF "HAVAS."

LONDON, Feb. 12.

President Wilson's speech to the Chamber of Deputies was important.

As regards a full and mutual comprehension between France and the U.S.A., when France is fully persuaded that Mr. Wilson intends to make a true League of Free Nations, swift of decision and able to act, France will hesitate no longer.

M. Venizelos made a great impression at the Conference by the statesmanlike way he presented Greece's claims, the basis being reunion with the unredeemed Greeks now under alien domination.

A note was issued last night regarding the visit of the Prince Regent of Serbia. As the first citizen of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes, he contributes towards making the bonds now uniting the new kingdom to France, the Allied Powers, and the United States more close and durable.

The International Socialist Conference has opened at Bern. M. Albert Thomas compelled the German Socialists to listen to a complete and lucid indictment for their treason.

Kurt Eisner, speaking in the name of the German Minority Socialists, said the authors of the war were Prussian officers supported by German manufacturers and bankers.

M. Kauteky said that Germany's attitude when Austria sent her ultimatum to Serbia proved the responsibility of the Central Power.

French General Headquarters which had gone to Metz have been brought back to the rear and re-established at Chantilly.

Emir Feisal has received the Croix de Guerre in recognition of the resolute manner in which he cut the communications of four Turkish armies.

Outside French rentes and certain French industrial concerns, there was little business on the Bourse yesterday.

BRITISH CHINA CORPORATION.

LONDON, Feb. 11.

Arbitrating the dispute between the Chinese Government and the British and Chinese Corporation, Lord Shaw has given an interim award whereby the sums hitherto paid by the Chinese Government to make up the interest on the Shanghai Nanking Railway bonds ought to be deducted from the earnings of the railway, in order to ascertain the net profits.

JEWS AND THE WAR.

A report of the war activities of the Jews, with a summary of political conditions affecting Jews in European countries, was presented recently at the twelfth annual meeting of the American Jewish Committee in the Hotel Astor, New York. Louis Marshall presided, and in presenting the report it was pointed out that the committee was established in 1906 "to prevent the infraction of the civil and religious rights of the Jews throughout the world."

The report said that from 150,000 to 200,000 Jews were serving in the army and about 20,000 in the navy and Marine Corps. "The records of about 65,000 have been classified, and of that number 4,910 are commissioned officers. Up to November 1 there were 2,502 casualties among the Jews whose names had been classified, or about 3.9 per cent. It is pointed out also in the report that while the industry comprises about 44 per cent. of the total strength of the army the percentage of Jews in that arm is about 60."

"The committee also prosecuted the correlative task of guarding the rights of the Jews by combatting all manifestations of racial or religious discrimination," said the statement of the committee. "In the course of this activity the committee had correspondence with almost every branch of the Government and all the authorities exhibited every disposition to have the matters complained of fairly and justly settled and recurrence of them made impossible."

In its report upon the political conditions in Europe the committee pointed out that it had covered the countries that were "the homes of 10,000,000 of the 15,000,000 Jews of the world." The report praises the approval of the British Government given to the plan to establish in Palestine "a national home for the Jewish people," and reviews conditions in Russia, Ukraine, Poland, Rumania, Courland, Lithuania, Serbia, Greece and Turkey.

In Russia the Bolsheviks have substituted an economic persecution for the religious persecution of the Tsars, the report says. In speaking of the machinations of the Bolsheviks and the attitude of the Russian Jews toward them it says:

"Although a large number of the Jews in Russia are the victims of the Bolsheviks, a great proportion being engaged in trade and the professions and thus coming under the ban of the Bolsheviks, yet because several of the leaders of this group are Jews, the impression has been created in many quarters that the Jews of Russia are overwhelmingly identified with the Bolsheviks and their excesses. From information which your committee has been able to secure of the state of affairs in that distracted country it can say with confidence that this report is entirely unfounded and that the Jews of Russia to an overwhelming extent are ranged on the side of those who are struggling for the restoration of decency and order and who are patriotically striving to deliver Russia from its present unhappy condition."

It will not be sufficient for the security of the Jews in Poland, the report says; if the Allies, in establishing the sovereign State, "merely make stipulations for the equality of all inhabitants, in a treaty or protocol." The report adds that some effectual guarantee must be added to the stipulations of the Polish charter. It continues:

"Will the new Poland be controlled by enlightened and broad-minded men who will administer it as a great civilized State upon the basis now recognised to be the foundation of all modern civilized nations, or will the new State prove a victim of those extreme Chauvinists whose motto has been publicly proclaimed as 'Poland for the Poles,' and who propose to arrive at this ideal by sending half of the Jews of Poland to America, and half to Palestine?"

A parallel of the possible status of the Jew in Poland is found in Rumania, the report says in pointing out that the Rumanians "oligarchy found no difficulty in circumventing the provision of the treaty of Berlin guaranteeing civil and political equality to all inhabitants irrespective of race." The recent treaty of Bucharest provided for the naturalization of Jews born in Rumania, but the report asserts that the difficulty in the claiming of citizenship was that birth registers there were not kept before 1880 and were irregular until 1890, so that Jews more than 15 years old whose parents were born in the country could not claim privileges of citizenship.

"The probable addition to Rumania of the territories of Bessarabia, Transylvania, and Bukovina will increase the difficulties, and the report adds: 'The Rumanian Jewish question is likely to assume the magni-

OVERGROWN CHERUBIM.

Mr. Wells, in his "Joan and Peter," tells us about an advanced school in which the boys and girls wear Djibbabs, act plays, enjoy themselves much, and learn little. The mistress of the school has a new "boom" at least once in every term. At intervals she calls all the children together and makes them a speech about her new boom; and they remain the same happy, untaught children as before. To them the school is a pleasant place where many things happen, some of them dull, but most amusing, happen like the weather overhead, and are accepted like the weather. Now, this school seems, both to Mr. Wells and to his readers, better than another in the same book, a bad, listless, ill-tempered school of the old kind, where the boys learn nothing except to be unpleasant in an unpleasant world. In the advanced school they do at least learn to be pleasant in a pleasant world. They are used to kindness and become as kind themselves as undisciplined children can be; but they have no notion what the real world is like. They are brought up in an unreal elysium; they belong to the class that lives on investments; and the school and all its methods and ideas is possible only where there is such a class. But out of such elysium all children sooner or later must come. They may continue to live on investments, and even shut their eyes to the fact that all human beings do not live so; but in that case they will pay the penalty of their un-reality. For this is a world in which everything has to be paid for; and it is the business of all teachers to teach that fact from the very first. A good nurse teaches it to a baby from the moment it is born, trains it in habits which it must learn if it is to be happy itself and not a nuisance to others; and a good teacher makes the youngest child understand that it can learn nothing without effort.

The worst of kindly happy "freak" schools is that often they do not teach the difference between knowing and not knowing; pupils come away from them bright, full of opinions they have not earned, and a little soft. They do not know that in this world you must pay even for opinions if they are to be your own. They do not really know that you must pay for anything. They are like Adam and Eve cast out of Paradise, except that often they never discover, all their lives long, that they have been cast out. They wonder that Paradise should seem less and less satisfying as they grow older, and that others should not behave as if it were Paradise, but they never awake to the fact that it is not Paradise. The consequence is that they never try either to gain or to make another Paradise. They cannot understand why others strive and grow passionate. They deplore the struggle for life, from which they are protected by their own moderate investments, and the vulgarity of those who, not being so protected, do struggle. Often they are Socialists, or even Anarchists, under the protection of the police, in sympathy with all advanced causes, foes to machinery, and fond of weaving their own trousers. The live the simple life, but still on their investments; if only the gross brawling world would leave them alone, they would be quite happy with nature and nature's God. Never do they discover that they are harmless but useless parasites upon the gross brawling world, that someone pays for the amiable futile life they lead, and that they themselves are not in the least like the great artists and poets and saints they admire. Certainly they are not the worst of men; but sometimes they are the most infuriating, because they have learned how never to learn anything, even from experience. To refuse all knowledge, whatever is their one attainment; and to substitute for knowledge opinions which are all of a piece, so that one may know for certain what they will think on every subject. They might be perfect inhabitants of some other planet, a gentle limbo of souls neither saved nor damned; but for this one they are inadequate, and the older they grow the more inadequate and insipid they become. In youth they seem to be about to do something; they have the eager expectation of Correggio's cherubim; but gradually they grow like his elderly saints, tiresome people who are merely cherubim overgrown. That is the worst of freak schools; they are apt to turn out overgrown, unchangeable cherubim into a world that needs men and women. "Times."

ends of the Polish Jewish question, and its solution, in both cases must be the same—treaty stipulations and guarantees of their observance.

INQUISITIVE UNCLE SAM.

In that amusing book "America Through Hindu Eyes," is a list of questions put to passengers for America which struck Prince Victor of Cochin Bharu very much. There are 22 of them—names—age—sex—married—calling—able to read and write—nationality—race or people—whether citizen of U.S.A.—last residence—final destination and whether ticket to same—in transit to Canada full address of destination.

13. Have you paid your own passage or has it been paid by any Corporation, Society, Municipality or Government and if so by whom? Have you 50 dollars in your possession, and if less, how much? If going to join a relative give address.

17. Have you ever been in a prison or lunatic-house or institution or hospital for insane or supported by charity? If so which.

18. Are you a "polygamist"? 19. Are you an anarchist? 20. Have you come under any offer to perform labour in the U.S.A.? 21. Are you healthy, mentally and physically? 22. Are you deformed or crippled—nature, duration and cause. The Prince has missed the one asking the traveller if he intends to naturalize as an American.

MORE BABY BOYS.

Figures given in the quarterly return of the Registrar-General show a remarkable increase of baby boys compared with girls. From the average of 1,040 the rate has sprung up to 1,018 boys to each 1,000 girls. The birth-rate has fallen from 24.1 in the year before the war to 17.8 in the third quarter of last year, but the number of births was 5,925 greater than in the same period of 1917. As a result of the infant welfare campaign, infant mortality has decreased 25 per thousand. Although more boys are born than girls, women continue to increase in proportion to men, for only 1,000 women died to each 1,114 males. Marriages are increasing. In the second quarter of last year 67,120 persons were married, 6,714 more than in the same quarter of 1917. But we are still far below the high-water mark at the end of 1918, when 105,222 persons were married.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS' CHAIR.

Major David Davies, M.P., in a letter to Sir John Williams, president of the University College of Wales, offers £20,000, on behalf of his sister and himself, to found a Chair of International Politics at Aberystwyth, "in memory of the fallen students of our University, for the study of those related problems of law and politics, of ethics and economics, which are raised by the project of a League of Nations, and for the encouragement of a truer understanding of civilisations other than our own."

"We should be glad," he adds, "if our proposal is accepted, that the Chair should be associated with the illustrious name of President Wilson."

Major Davies, who has represented Montgomeryshire since 1906, and has just been returned unopposed, is attached to the Royal Welsh Fusiliers. He is a member of the Prime Minister's secretariat. A vice-president of the University College of Wales, he is also on the governing bodies of the other Welsh University Colleges.

"DISABLED FIRST, PLEASE."

Preferential treatment for Silver Badge men and wounded soldiers is the motto of a little coterie of London bus girls, who have banded themselves together into a sort of protection society for the disabled. One of the first examples of the policy in practice occurred in Ludgate-circus, when there was a rush of twenty or thirty people for a bus with only one vacant place. A discharged captain, wearing the Silver Badge and still carrying portions of a German bomb in his right hip, was left far behind in the scramble. But the watchful bus girl noticed him hobbling about with the aid of a stout stick on the edge of the boarding party. Barring general access to the platform, she beckoned to him. He was in mufti, and of course she didn't know he was a full-blown captain. "Come on, Tommy," she said, "you're first." Then to the others: "Stand back, and let this gentleman on—he can't get about like some of you." She conveyed him inside, pulled the cord, and the bus moved on. "We don't like to see disabled men who have fought for us fighting for a bus at home," she explained afterwards.

"On the whole, people are considerate to wounded men, because their condition is obvious; but Silver Badge men in mufti, many of whom are crippled are often pushed about by people better able to look after themselves, and who ought to know better. We're going to look after them and the wounded boys as much as ever we can."

DEATH OF MR. J. R. FLYNN ANDERSON.

The death of Mr. J. R. Flynn Anderson, which occurred at the General Hospital, Singapore, on Jan. 20, came at the end of a long illness with almost dramatic suddenness. It was a hopeless case of heart trouble, aggravated by the extra hard work which devolved on the deceased through work entailed by his latest venture—a Sunday paper for Singapore. The late Mr. Anderson, at one time, was the owner of two papers in the Philippines. "Owing to his health breaking down he eventually sold those papers, and produced the Dollar Directory in Hongkong, a replica of which he started in Singapore last year. The deceased went through the Zulu campaign and subsequently proceeded on a lecturing tour in Australia, South Africa and India and could speak Hindustani with all the eloquence of a pundit. He was a well-known figure in Singapore, and in his own unobtrusive way helped many a lame dog over the stile, and there will be many who will miss him."

OUR FUTURE ARMY.

The London "Times" had a very plausible article just before Christmas advocating universal military service. It hinted that the Paris Conference was not likely to result in anything to make this unnecessary. It deplored the electioneering pledges to abolish conscription, declaring that we could not tell what might or might not be necessary. It said it supported Lord Roberts' proposals. And it said that if we had only had a million men under arms at the outbreak of war, how different things might have been. To all of which Lord Haldane was moved to reply, and did so rather ingeniously. He says that responsible persons insist that before any attempt is made to organize an Army the scientific purpose for which it is required shall be ascertained and exactly defined. He instances the plans of 1906, and points out that if we had been going to war alone with Germany, the Committee of Imperial Defence considered those plans adequate; but if France also were attacked, we would be less well off, owing to the danger of the enemy capturing the Channel ports, and thence harassing our control of the Channel. At first sight it would seem that two to one were better than one to one, as Nelson used to think. So it was in Nelson's case; but in this, as Lord Haldane points out, a paradox remains. A better analogy would be that a man alone has a better chance against a footpad than if accompanied by a female companion. The French channel ports were our female embarrassment. France had a large army, but not large enough to guard the whole of her eastern frontier against the still larger German army. It was considered and agreed by the French General Staff and our own, after "careful calculation," that "a comparatively small but very highly trained and organized Expeditionary Army" from Britain would be sufficient, and surely, events have proved these calculations not so far amiss?

By 1911, according to Lord Haldane, the strength of our effective artillery had been greatly increased under Sir Douglas Haig, until the General Staff of that time was satisfied that the measures to meet the definite contemplated end were enough. With regard to "The Times" suggestion that if we had had a million, &c., Lord Haldane wants to know how it could have been done. If the attempt to raise a million then had failed, "not only would the floor of the House of Commons have been strewn with the wreckage of another Army scheme, but the failure would have been the occasion of danger. It takes a long time to raise and prepare an army. In peace time it is harder to get officers than in war time. Between 1906 and 1914 it was, "on purely military grounds," out of the question to risk it, and the General Staff had so advised. They were afraid Germany might pounce on us while making the change. As to Lord Roberts' plan, that was directed merely to home defence, which was adequately provided for in another way. "Moreover, Lord Roberts' scheme did not even profess to provide the Expeditionary Army for the Continent which they regarded as the only adequate instrument for the immediately possible strategic requirement. That scheme would, besides this, in all probability have affected seriously the recruiting for the actual Expeditionary Force and for our great overseas garrisons for India and our Dependencies. For these had to be raised for long and, therefore, voluntary service." Field-Marshal Lord Nicholson believed that the difficulties in the way of compulsion (in peace time) were "insuperable." He would personally have been in favour of compulsory service had it been practicable. All along the War Office has seen that its real job would be to defend the northern frontier of France, and that it would have to do its utmost in a limited time. The National Service League did not have this in view. Had we adopted compulsory service then—in the Campbell-Bannerman and Asquith period—"we should have been much worse prepared and might have lost the war."

Evidently the whole business was less simple than the admirers of dear Lord Roberts realized. Meanwhile, as Lord Haldane says, before we talk again about preparation, we had better try to get some idea of what we are to be prepared for. The end is more important than the means.

PAN-PACIFIC UNION.

Once in a while this institution manages to get into print outside its own home town of Honolulu. Recently a North China paper gave it free advertising for its conference of Chambers of Commerce, proposed to be held next year. It is always going to do something big and real next year. In many ways it seems to have a perpetual option on next year. According to its propaganda—issued from its little office by a one-man staff of really prodigious energy—the Pan-Pacific Union is to further the interests common to Pacific nations. It is to maintain "bureaus of information and education" in that little Honolulu office, to help Pacific peoples better to understand each other, and to spread the friendly spirit of inter-racial co-operation. There are dozens of other things it is to do (all of which the energetic promoter will tell you about for hours if you ask him); but the sad fact remains that it presents all it does do to achieve the social excitement of that little island of Oahu, and incidentally to provide one man with a job. It is a job he loves. We can say that for him. It is the job of advertising everybody else what they ought to do to succeed. The Australians, New Zealanders, Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, and other Pacificists somehow muddle along without troubling it much. As for Hongkong, which has a nodding acquaintance with the Pacific, we suppose it never before so much as heard of the Pan-Pacific Union.

BILLIARDS.

THE COLONY CHAMPIONSHIP.

POKIE P. WONG v. R.S.M. TATTON.

These players met at the V.R.C. last night, and as expected, the Chinese was too good for the Sergeant Major. Pokie Wong reached his first 100 with a lead of 59, and carrying on with more prolific play finally won by 135 points. The best breaks were: Pokie P. Wong, 31 (2 fukes), 21, 20 and 18. 17 was Tatton's best break. Scores—

Pokie P. Wong, 400; Tatton, 265.

To-night Serg. W. Pitt, H.K. Police meets K.K. Leung. Popular opinion is that the champion is one of this pair, the Police Sergeant perhaps. Pitt is not, as so often stated, the present champion of the Colony, as Gunner J. Lord, 33rd Co. R.G.A. deprived him of this title in the final of the Tournament at the V.R.C. last year. As Gunner Lord has returned to England, the winner of the tournament now in progress becomes the champion as the holder will be unable to defend his title.

THE GARRISON TOURNAMENT.

MANCHESTERS v. 88th CO. R.G.A.

The Manchester, favourites for this competition, made a capital start in this semi-final at the Soldiers' Club last night, winning all three games played. Colonel Harvey and Gunner Curtis were the first pair, both playing carefully and slowly, the Colonel winning by a good margin, 70. Serg. Major Keenan won the next game, being too good for Serg. Haskings, who gave his opponent too many openings needlessly. The last game was the best, a very even contest ensuing between Sergs. Hall and Davis. The former won by the narrow margin of 161. The match will be resumed to-night, the Manchesters holding a lead of 145 points. Scores—

A Chinese who attempted to export 13 taels of Government opium was fined $100 with the option of jail for six weeks. He was arrested on the "Kinsan" the opium being concealed in his socks.

A Chinese was fined $25 by Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning. He attempted to import a rifle into the colony by the "Omlie." The rifle was taken apart and distributed among his luggage.

The Naval Quadrille Club held a successful dance in the Naval Theatre last night, a fine programme of dances being gone through. Petty Officer Woodley was the M.C., Mrs. Titmas being at the piano.

The Hongkong Tramway's traffic receipts for the week were $15,386, or $1,324 more than for the same week of last year. For the six weeks, the aggregate was $87,280, or $11,110 more than for the same period of last year.

A meeting of Members of the Customs Service is being held on Saturday, in the Customs Library, Honam, to discuss conditions of service and receive suggestions for the improvement of same, to be despatched to the Inspector General at Peking.

The Emperor of Japan has conferred upon Lord French and Sir Douglas Haig, the Grand Cordon of the Order of the Rising Sun with Paulownia. Various Japanese orders have also been conferred upon the Chiefs of Staffs and British Army Commanders.

Booking is now open at Moutrie's for the Ministering League Grand Variety Concert on Saturday the 22nd inst. The work of the league is so well known that it scarcely needs commenting on, save that it is hoped the public will heartily support the concert. The programme which will appear later, is one that is bound to appeal.

A detective on duty at Canton Road had his suspicions aroused by the sight of a man's jacket bulging. On a search, a roll of cloth worth $20 was brought to light. This on investigation, was discovered to be stolen from a case on the steamer "Novara." Jail for four months and stocks was the penalty.

For refusing his fare and using bad language a ricksha coolie was fined $7 by Mr. J. R. Wood this morning. He was hired by Mr. J. Mukerjee to take him from his house, No. 24, Nathan Road, to the Star Ferry Wharf, and was tendered 5 cents for that distance. He refused to accept the money, throwing it on the ground and swearing. Mr. Mukerjee gave him in charge.

A London paper says: There are fully thirty thousand telegrams awaiting despatch to Australia. The ordinary commercial service is between five and six days behind hand. These telegrams are at the 3s. a penny rate. Those at the seven penny rate for Press telegrams fare worse. They take about a fortnight to get through. The American service has been very bad too. There is very little chance for private work, some of the Governments having occupied the greater part of the facilities. Ever since the U-boat war began cables have had to be neglected owing to the danger of sending out repair ships to look after the lines. The result was that cable after cable became unworkable, and ships have now gone out and are grappling with the recalcitrant lines.

The Soviet organ, the Isvestia, according to a larbin paper, tells a story of an attempted coup d'etat by French and British officers, by which the People's Commissaries were to be seized last August or September, and transported to Archangel—all except Lenin, who, because of his dangerous persuasive powers, was to be shot. The Isvestia conjectures that the object was to force Russia into war with Germany again. The Harbin paper conjectures that the publication of the story is to "compromise the Allies in the eyes of the world." But since there has been, if we may believe the newspapers, such a unanimous declaration that Bolshevism must be extirpated by every possible means, why (asks the Japan Chronicle) should the story be deemed compromising at this stage of affairs?

THE RUSSIAN MUSICIANS.

Hongkong does not "speed the parting guest," when it likes him. Like Bill Turpin and the Bishop, "it prevails on him to stop." So with Professor Sklarevski and Mr. Sykora, those brilliant Russian musicians. They are to give another afternoon concert to-morrow (Thursday) at 5.30, at Professor Danenberg's music studio, No. 1, the Albany, above the Public Gardens. Moutrie's are selling tickets for it at $2 and $1.

There were about 250 people yesterday at Prof. Danenberg's, who greatly enjoyed the playing of the Russian artists. Refreshments were served in the interval. The following programme was given:

Grigie—Sonata, A minor, op. 36 for piano and violinello.

Allegro agitato.

Andante molto tranquillo.

Allegro.

A. Sklarevski and B. Sykora.

Gluck—Melodie, B minor.

Haydn—Menuet, D major.

Mozart—Dance, D major.

Gretchaninov—Pastorale.

B. Sykora.

Debussy—Arabesque, E minor.

Wagner—List—Death of Isolde.

List: Campanella.

A. Sklarevski.

A great number of Dutch workmen who were discharged by Krupp's are reported to have been re-engaged and to have returned to Krupp's. It is stated they are now busy constructing railway material, especially trucks, and in preparing for an extensive commercial campaign to be initiated after peace is signed.

The American Consul General has received instructions from Washington to the effect that the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers of the United States are to hold an exposition, display and sale of hosiery, underwear and goods, in Philadelphia early in June of the current year. These manufacturers are preparing to sell direct to importers without intermediaries and foreign merchants interested are invited to attend this exposition.

HONGKONG & SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

The 103rd Report of the Court of Directors for presentation at the Ordinary Yearly General Meeting of Shareholders to be held at the City Hall, Hongkong, on Saturday, Feb. 22, 1919, at noon, states:—

To the Proprietors of the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation.

Gentlemen,—The Directors have now to submit to you a General Statement of the affairs of the Bank, and Balance Sheet for the year ending December 31, 1918. The net profits for that period, including $3,223,238.13, balance brought forward from last account, after paying all charges, deducting interest paid and due, and making provision for bad and doubtful accounts and contingencies, amount to $9,820,420.02.

The Directors recommend the transfer of $1,000,000 from the Profit and Loss Account to credit of the Silver Reserve Fund, which Fund will then stand at $21,000,000. They also recommend writing off Bank Premises Account the sum of $750,000.

After making these transfers, deducting the Interim Dividend of £2 3s. per share, paid on August 12 last, viz. £238,000 at 3/4= $1,577,579.62, and Remuneration to Directors, there remains for appropriation $5,962,841.30, out of which the Directors recommend the payment of a Final Dividend of Two Pounds and Five Shillings Sterling per Share, viz. £270,000, and a Bonus of One Pound Ten Shillings Sterling per Share, viz. £180,000, amounting in all to $4,500,000 which at 3/4, the rate of the day, will absorb $2,833,229.82.

The Balance $9,270,811.48 to be carried to New Profit and Loss Account.

Branches and Agencies.—A Branch Office of the Bank has been opened at Vladivostok.

Directors.—Mr. J. A. Plummer has been elected Chairman for the year 1919, and Mr. P. V. D. Parr Deputy Chairman. Mr. F. C. Butcher having resigned his seat on leaving the Colony, Mr. J. A. Plummer was invited to fill the vacancy. This appointment requires confirmation at this meeting. The Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak, Mr. C. S. Gubbey and E. V. D. Parr retire in rotation, but being eligible for re-election, offer themselves accordingly.

Auditors.—The Accounts have been audited by Mr. F. Mainland and Mr. E. A. M. Williams, who offer themselves for re-election.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

A ST. GEORGE'S BALL THIS YEAR.

This society held its annual meeting last evening in the City Hall. The Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak presided and was supported by the following members of the Committee:—The Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, Messrs. N. J. Stubb, H. W. Bird, H. W. Looker, W. A. Dowley, M. S. Northcote, J. W. Graham, A. G. Coppin, W. J. Eldridge, P. Cassidy (Hon. Treasurer), and F. A. Wells (Hon. Secretary). A good number of members attended.

The Chairman said:—

Gentlemen,—The Audited Accounts having been before you for some days I propose to follow the usual custom and take them as read though I am sure you will bear with me if, for a moment, I dwell upon them.

The Street collection on St. George's Day realised the handsome figure of $25,802.60 and our thanks are again due to the energetic band of ladies without whose assistance this result would not have been possible.

The "Tombola," which was suggested and organised by Mrs. C. M. Ede assisted by a splendid band of workers, realised $25,887.60 to which must be added $785.10, being the expenses in connection with the "Tombola," generously refunded by Mrs. Ede.

The "War Bond Drawing" results fully justified our high expectations and by this means the very fine total of $117,500—was added to our Special fund.

The Theatre performance organised by Mr. W. Sinclair realised a profit of $12,753.15 constituting, I believe, a record result for any Theatrical performance ever given in the Colony.

Two generous donations, one of $15,000 and one of $300 from friends who desire to remain anonymous, added to the interest on the account bringing our special effort for "St. George's Day" 1918, to the really magnificent net total of $198,342.21 which has enabled us to remit through Mr. Murray Stewart—whose unselfish and arduous work in London throughout the War period, not only on our behalf but also for the "War Charities" fund, deserves our gratitude and admiration—to various splendid War charities no less a sum than £31,984.15.4 of which, all Englishmen in this Colony may feel justly proud though we are all perfectly conscious that this splendid result could not have been achieved but for that very generous support from all classes of the community—and especially our Scottish friends for which this Colony is justly famed.

In addition to the above anonymous donations $2,500, was returned from "War Bond" winnings direct to the "Prisoners of War" fund.

So much for "St. George's Day." Special Account, now for a brief word on our General Account.

The year began with a balance of $1,526.72, increased during the year to $2,704.70 and to this will be added in 1919 Accounts $4,223.43 balance of "Special Account."

No call has been made on the Society's funds for local relief during the past twelve months and the only disbursements have been for small working charges.

It is your Committee's earnest desire to build up this fund to a substantial figure that we may be prepared to suitably assist all necessities and deserving cases and in this connection I would remind you that, under Rule 17 of the Society's constitution, there is no danger of any part of the fund being dispersed for the purposes of any celebrations.

The year began with a membership of 8 life and 192 ordinary members and during the year there have been added 1 life member and 130 ordinary members.

It is with profound regret that I have to report the death of three members, viz:—Messrs. F. A. Bilen, T. Elliot and J. Hutchings.

Our total membership to-day is 228.

Our energetic Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Bentley, and Mr. J. H. Rumsay, the Hon. Treasurer of "St. George's Day Special Appeals," both of whom did yeoman service for the Society, resigned during the year to go home and join up for active service.

The vacancy in the position of Hon. Secretary was filled up by the appointment of Mr. F. A. Wells, to whose energy and efficiency I can personally testify, and I am glad to report that he has consented to continue so long as an assistant secretary is appointed for special celebrations and I am further glad to say that Mr. P. S. Cassidy, who has been a very keen treasurer, is also willing to serve for another year.

It would be unfitting for me to close without reference to the tremendous labours of the Committee and Sub-Committees who devoted so much of their leisure time during a period when all were overworked, to the successful prosecution of our "War Bond" drawing and as one behind the scenes I can assure you, Gentlemen, the labours were tremendous and your special thanks are due to Mr. Sandford upon whom the heaviest part of the work as, the Hon. Treasurer, inevitably fell, Mr. Charles Hewick and Mr. J. H. Briston as "War Bond" Secretaries, Mr. Bentley and Mr. Wells as Hon. Secretaries; Mr. Coppin and Mr. Perry for their work in connection with advertising and the Press for their valuable assistance.

In conclusion, I may add that we have now, I think, fairly demonstrated that we have become an active Society and I trust will become an increasing power for good in this Colony as the days go by.

I now beg to propose that the report and accounts as presented be adopted.

Mr. N. J. Stubb, O.B.B., seconded this and it was carried unanimously.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Chairman then proceeded with the election of officers. He said:—Gentlemen, our next business is to elect a Committee for the ensuing year. I have endeavoured to persuade our Vice-President to accept the position of President for this year, but he has informed me that he has very heavy labours in front of him this year and has declined to stand, although I am glad to tell you that he is willing to remain on as Vice-President with the view and hope of taking the post of President in the following year. (Applause.) Our next senior member of the Committee is the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, and I have great pleasure in proposing that he be elected President for the coming year.

Mr. Stubb seconded this and it was carried unanimously.

Mr. Pollock in replying said:—Gentlemen, I thank you very much for the honour you have done me. I will do my best to promote the interest of the Society. (Applause.)

The following were re-elected:—Vice-President, Mr. N. J. Stubb; Hon. Secretary, Mr. P. A. Wells; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. P. S. Cassidy.

The election of the new Committee was then proceeded with. Several names were proposed, but the gentlemen in question expressed their regret at not being able to serve as they were leaving for home shortly. Finally the Committee was constituted as follows:—Messrs. G. S. Arblin, H. W. Bird, C. M. Ede, W. A. Dowley, A. G. Coppin, M. S. Northcote, W. J. Eldridge, G. C. Moxon, G. G. Alabaster, S. E. Dowell, A. E. Crapnell and T. E. Pearce, with the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak and Mr. Justice Ganpertz (ex-officio).

THE NEXT ST. GEORGE'S DAY.

The meeting next discussed what should be done on the next St. George's Day in the Colony. The Chairman said: I put it to you as a suggestion that, with regard to St. George's Day celebrations, we might at any rate carry out the same form of street collection which we had last year. Whether it be for War Funds, or War Charities, or for a War Memorial, I believe money will be needed, and again this year we have to prepare, and gladly do so, to put our hands in our pockets in the same generous way which this community has done in past years during the war. (Applause.) I also offer the suggestion to the incoming Committee that at some time during the year, either early or late, we have St. George's Ball. (Applause.) The meeting is now open for suggestions.

Both suggestions were agreed to, and it was explained that the Ball would be held as soon after peace was declared as could reasonably be arranged having regard to climatic conditions.

Mr. Spradbery: What about having a Tombola?

The Chairman: I think we may pass that on as a suggestion to the incoming Committee. I doubt very much whether the members realise what a tremendous amount of labour was expended on the Tombola, and I doubt whether we can get a Committee of ladies to carry it on. However, the Committee will consider whether it be practicable or not.

Mr. Pattenden: Is it possible to have a concert on St. George's Day?

The Chairman: That's a very good suggestion.

On being put to the vote the proposal was carried.

Mr. Dowley: May I suggest that something be done for the children?

The Chairman replied that it was curious that the same suggestion had just been made to him by another member. He would pass it on to the Committee for consideration.

DEATH OF MR. TULIP.

The death occurred to-day at the French Hospital, Wanchai, of Mr. Wilfrid Tulip, following an operation. Deceased, who was 38 years of age was a draughtsman at the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co. Ltd. He was born at Chippingham in Northumberland and served his apprenticeship at Hawthorn Leslie, Shipbuilders on the Tyne. He has been with the Dock Company for 14 years. He had held offices in the Zetland and Grand Masonic Lodges. He was a corporal of the Machine Gun Company of the Hongkong Defence Corps and the funeral will be a military one.

The firing party will be made up of members of his Company and all other ranks are invited. The dress (except for the firing party who will receive special orders) is cap, tunic, trousers, belt and sidearms.

The funeral will pass the Monument at 5 p.m. to-morrow.

According to information received at the Naval Intelligence Office, Colombo, on January 13, some bamboo which the "Kum Chow" carried on deck while on her voyage from Rangoon has been found floating in the off Bay Bengal. It is probable that the bamboo was washed overboard during the cyclone. The search for the vessel is being continued, and now that there is some trace to work on it will not be long before some definite news come through.

TO-DAY'S NEW ADVERTISEMENT.

A NEW FILM STAR IN A FINE PHOTOPLAY.

A short while ago we introduced to you a new Fox Star—George Walsh—and everything that we said about him—fourteen—crowded—houses corroborated. To-morrow we shall show upon the screen at the Coronet another actor of eminence, but of an entirely different style—William S. Hart—in a wonderful "Triangle" play, "Hell's Hinges."

Hart is the kind of man who can hold up a whole town at the point of a couple of revolvers without there being anything unreal about it. He is the Cowboy of the screen, and when you see him leap from a rock some ten feet or so into the saddle or drive his horse down an almost perpendicular hillside, you know instinctively that there is no fake about it. So much for the principal actor, now for the play!

In a rough and lawless community there stood a place of ill repute, a place that it were good to pass by. Its original name was shrouded by its evil deeds, and finally lost. To those who knew, it suggested the little "Hell's Hinges," a rough but not inept cognomen, a town of undiluted evil, a "trying" scandal to civilisation.

Blaze Tracey is the "bad man," the leader of the evil spirit that pervades, and though we are not shown much of W. S. Hart on the "bad" side in "Hell's Hinges," it is but an easy step to imagine what part this silent, powerful actor has taken.

Away in the city a young weakling is being pushed into the ministry by an ambitious mother. The character of Rev. Robert Henley (Jack Standing) is a bitter satire: he is the son that is unfit to battle through this life, and so is driven to attempt the leadership of those seeking a future one.

Without sufficient pluck and nerve to withstand the trials of a strenuous city mission, he is sent upon ordination to "Hell's Hinges." He is, however, accompanied by his sister Faith (Clara Williams), and if that were not so, the story would end abruptly enough.

To Silk Miller (Alfred Hollingsworth) the advent of the new minister is but the cause of unprovoked mirth, and to Blaze Tracey is given the task of blocking the missionary work and clearing out the sky pilot.

Faith, however, is the intervening factor. To Blaze she is something beyond his comprehension, a glimpse of heaven's sweetness that he can but dimly grasp. The "bad" man changes instantly. He determines that the brother of such a girl shall have at least a fair hearing, and no one dare say nay to the will of the resolute Blaze.

It is not religion that effects the wondrous change. It is the woman. There is no hypocrisy of this sort in the entrancing story.

Silk Miller sees ruin to his saloon, and arrays all his forces of desperate rascals, and even decoys in opposition. By the aid of Dolly Louise Glum he entices the minister to the saloon, gets him drunk and disgraced. Silk now looks upon Blaze as his enemy, and one to be feared. But he seizes the chance of Blaze's absence, and the half-drunken mob burn down the newly erected church and fight the lawful inhabitants.

But Blaze returns, and his reply is swift. It is Hart. He corners the crowd in the saloon, burns it down and the whole town with it. And from the midst of the lurid flames of the doomed town emerges a new man, to be the loving protector of Faith.

The ending is delightfully artistic. In the morning amidst the ruins, enshrouded by the still lingering smoke traces of the overnight scene of horror, are seen three figures silhouetted against the sky of the early dawn—Blaze, his faithful horse, and Faith.

"Beyond those hills lies the future life; come and share it with me," is all that Blaze says. And the now loving Faith passes with him.

A committee is being formed locally to consider the most appropriate form of peace celebration and also to discuss the subject of a local war memorial. It will be entirely a British Committee. The Hon. Colonial Secretary informs us that from 50-70 invitations have been issued and as soon as replies come the Committee will be gazetted. Sir Paul Chater will be Chairman and it is anticipated Mr. Ross, the Postmaster General will be Secretary.

SINKING OF BIBBY LINER.

Publication is now permitted of the following particulars (written at the time) regarding the sinking on the night of February 16, 1917, of the Bibby Liner s.s. "Worcestershire." The vessel was sunk by a mine laid by the raider "Wolf." The Bibby Liner "Worcestershire" which left Colombo harbour, met with an explosion some short time after leaving port, and at the time of writing lies some 15 miles from the coast, just off the Galle Face parade in a sinking condition. It appears that about eleven o'clock last night when most of the passengers had gone to their bunks a tremendous explosion occurred in No. two hold. The vessel immediately began to take in water, and ten minutes after the explosion the passengers were ordered to take to the boats. Flares were at once sent up, but it does not appear that they at first received attention. The boats at once scattered in the event of the vessel going down and at the time of writing it is reported that all the boats have come to land except one. The death toll is stated to be three native members of the crew, one being the Captain's "boy." Later the Harbour tug "Goliath" and the Wharfage Co. tug "Lady Mackay" and "Lady Incheape" were sent to the scene of the disaster to render assistance and the boats were collected from a wide radius and the passengers eventually landed at one of the new export jetties close to the Patent Slip. Many of them were in their night attire, wearing life belts, bare-footed, and all bearing traces of their long night in the open boats in a fairly choppy sea. To one's surprise a number of ladies were among the party, one with two young children. One young girl of about fourteen or fifteen years of age was sobbing silently, obviously still suffering from the strain of the night's awful adventure. The lascars crew appeared more happy. Most of them were fully dressed, and nearly all were carrying blue coloured life belts. Many of the European officers were bare-footed and hatless. One of the passengers, worn out, sleepy, but none the less full of beans stated that the explosion occurred in No. 2 hold when the vessel was about fifteen miles from Colombo Harbour. Flames spat through the ventilators, and many of the passengers were thrown from their bunks by the force of the explosion. The order was given to take to the boats, and flares were sent up. The scene, despite the horror of the occasion was a thrilling one, and the best of discipline prevailed. The boat he was getting into was caught on the top of a wave and thrown high up. He managed to catch hold of some of the shrouds and was then later able to get into another boat. The foremast was blown out and the wireless installation dismantled, they having to rely on flares to attract attention. Sir Charles Fox, Chief Judge, of the Chief Court, Lower Burma, who was a passenger on the "Worcestershire" from Rangoon to London, in relating his experiences on board after the explosion, said the incident occurred at 10.40 last night and the passengers took to the boats which were promptly lowered. There was no panic or confusion among any of the passengers, and splendid order prevailed. There was plenty of time and the arrangements for disembarking were satisfactorily carried out. The ship was gradually going lower and lower and the boats left her at 11.30 p.m. for Colombo. The passengers had a trying time all night in the open sea. At 4.30 a.m. to-day the tug despatched from Colombo was alongside the boats. The boats were not all together and the tug picked up only the passengers in one group, while those in another were taken on by another steamer and brought into port. To the best of Sir Charles' belief no lives were lost, but nothing on board was saved. Clothes, luggage, money and all valuables were lost. Most of the passengers had only the clothes they were wearing at the time and these were their sleeping attire. They landed in Colombo from the tug at noon and took up quarters at the G.O.H. and Galle Face Hotels. The "Worcestershire," 7,175 tons gross, 4,486 tons nett was built in 1904 by Harland and Wolff, Ltd., owned by the Bibby S.S. Co., Ltd., and registered at Liverpool. She was 452.3 ft. by 54.3 ft. by 12.1 ft. Corimander, Captain A. R. Lindsay; Surgeon, Dr. H. B. Dunn; Chief Engineer, Mr. C. K. Patterson; Chief Steward, Mr. J. McClement; and Stewardess, Miss Oliphant. The "Worcestershire" loaded nearly 2,000 tons of local produce, mostly tea, rubber and desiccated nuts.
